AUSTRIANS FALL BACK IN THE EAST

LUTSK, A VOLHYNIAN FORT IS TAKEN BY RUSSIANS.

GERMANS CAPTURE VAUX

PARIS ADMITS LOSS ON VERDUN FRONT YESTERDAY.

Loss of the 36,000 ton battle cruiser Lutzow, one of the big German warships which the British claimed to have sunk in the Jutland sea fight last week, is now admitted by the German admiralty, as is the loss of the cruiser Rostock, a cruiser of 4,900 tons. The admitted German losses now comprise besides the Lutzow and Rostock, the battleship Pommern, the cruisers Wiesbaden, Ebling and Frauenlob and five torpedo craft.

The British have admitted the loss of the battle cruiser Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible; the armored cruisers Warrior, Black Prince and Defence, and eight torpedo boat destroyers. They have also admitted that the battleship Marlborough was torpedoed but declared she was towed to port.

Damage to the dreadnaught War-spite, which the Germans claim to have sunk, has also been conceded.

Paris today admits the loss of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, capture of which Berlin announced in yesterday's official statement. The French still hold the outskirts of the fort and trenches on both sides of it. The fort was abandoned, says the French bulletin, after an incessant bombardment for seven days had reduced it to ruins.

AUSTRIANS LOSE LUTSK. Volhynian Fortress Taken by Russians Rome Reports.

LONDON, June 8.—The Austrians have evacuated Lutsk, one of the Volhynian triangle fortresses, according to information received at the Russian embassy in Rome, says a Central News despatch from that city.

Seven brigades of Austrians are reported in the advice to have been captured with the fortress.

It is stated that the Austrian lines have been broken in Volhynia and that they have been withdrawn nearly 20 miles throughout the Lutsk sector.

An allied air squadron has successfully bombed the wharves at Hoboken, near Antwerp, according to a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Maastricht. The Germans are said to have been building destroyers at Hoboken. The squadron was fired on by German batteries but returned to its base safely.

BERLIN, June 8.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—At the high tide of battle during the North sea action of last week the strength of the British and German fleets engaged is given today from an authoritative German source was:

British—At least 25 dreadnaughts, six battle cruisers, and at least four armored cruisers.

German—Sixteen dreadnaughts, five battle cruisers, six older German battleships and no armored cruisers.

In addition numerous light warships were engaged.

LONDON, June 8.—A Central News despatch from Amsterdam says that a German official statement says that the loss of the cruisers Lutzow and Rostock in the battle of Jutland was withheld for military reasons. Both ships are said to have sunk while on their way to a harbor for repairs.

This is the first mention of the loss of the cruiser Rostock. The Rostock was a small warship of 4,900 tons and was built in 1912. She carried 374 men and was armed with 12 four-inch guns and two torpedo tubes. The Lutzow was a 26,000 ton dreadnaught battle cruiser. Her destruction has previously been claimed by British naval officers.

PARIS, June 8.—The fate of Fort Vaux, upon which the efforts of the Germans have been centered for three days, remains in suspense, according to the latest reports received by the French war office. Its loss would be regretted by France on account of the moral effect and for the sake of the garrison who struggled gallantly amidst its shell-wrecked ruins, but military critics assert that its possession would be of little benefit to the enemy.

The fort has long since been dismantled and is regarded by the French command as merely of value as an observation post.

WAUKEGAN.—With the jury finally completed after the examination of more than 1,200 men in 10 venues, the actual trial of W. H. Orpet, the university student charged with the murder, last February, of his former sweetheart, Marion Lambert, was begun today. David R. Joslyn, assistant to the state's attorney, was prepared when court opened, to outline the case of the prosecution and tell what the state hopes to prove.

NEW YORK.—Two elevated trains on the Third Avenue line were in collision this afternoon. Fire broke out in the wreckage. It was reported that several passengers had been killed. First reports had it that at least four were dead and 40 injured. Ambulances were summoned to the scene from nearby hospitals. Fire apparatus was quickly called and began playing streams on the flames.

MOOSE READY TO NOMINATE TEDDY

AUDITORIUM HALL, CHICAGO, June 8.—(2:20 p. m.)—Most of the delegates to the progressive convention had arrived at this hour but conferences between leaders delayed calling the convention to order.

By a vote of 25 to 11, Raymond Robins today was chosen over Hiram Johnson by the permanent organization committee as permanent chairman of the progressive convention. No ballots were cast for any other official.

Some of the progressive leaders, including Chairman Muddock of the national committee were seriously considering immediate nomination of Colonel Roosevelt. Muddock was quoted as saying it might be "too late" tomorrow.

"It's going to be a hard job to prevent the colonel's nomination today," said John McFarrell, his secretary, just before the convention opened.

THREE ENTRIES FROM ALLEN IN CONGRESS RACE

Cunningham, Welty and Riddle Ready for Primary Battle.

SHAPPELL UNCERTAIN

He May Get Into Fight Tonight—County Ticket Filled.

By David W. Bowman.

The fight is on. After a three months' period with at least two dozen prospective candidates for congress, several hundred "grapevines" of assorted varieties and probably more attempted coalitions, deals, frame-ups, realignments and "arrangements" than in any campaign in a score of years, the entries are about to close with five and perhaps six aspirants for the democratic nomination.

Advices from other counties are in some instances unobtainable, so the complete list of entries will not be known until late tonight. To date four candidates have filed their declarations in their respective county seats, with more in view. Dr. F. M. Hunt was the first to enter and shell out the required twenty-five waters. L. M. Studavant is the second, his papers reaching the Shelby county election board early yesterday afternoon. N. W. Cunningham turned in his declaration last evening, the signers being Jacob Amatutz, John G. Althaus and Samuel Hilly. Of Richland township, President S. K. Mosiman, of Bluffton college, and B. F. Blery, of Bluffton.

Up until press time T. P. Riddle, B. F. Welty and U. M. Shappell had not filed declarations, but it is known that at least two of them will file before evening. Welty has decided to make the fight and will turn in his five signatures before he goes home to eat. Riddle has a petition prepared and will slip it to the board of elections late this afternoon. Shappell, according to reliable reports, is ready to enter the race.

INTERNATIONAL BODY TO ARBITRATE MEXICAN TROUBLE

South American Diplomats Are Pleased by Plan Proposed.

Washington is Considering Making an Offer to Carranza.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Arbitration of differences between the United States and Mexico through an international commission today became a possibility.

Diplomats, particularly those of Central and South American republics, were much interested in information that administration officials are considering seriously proposing such a course to General Carranza. If they definitely decide to suggest this, it would be sent as the United States answer to Carranza's last note. Acceptance would then depend upon the de facto government.

Under the treaty of 1848 between the United States and Mexico the presidents of the two nations might appoint an equal number of commissioners, to whom could be submitted all the vexatious questions arising out of relations between the two countries during the past few years.

Among these might be: Withdrawal of American troops from Mexican territory. Indemnification for American lives lost and property destroyed or damaged during recent Mexican revolutions. Disposition of customs revenues collected during the American occupation of Vera Cruz, and now held in the United States; and claims for property damages growing out of the Vera Cruz incident.

Long-pending disputes concerning the exact location of certain portions of the international boundary. The commission probably would meet in some South American country.

Whether President Wilson had reached a final decision on the question of proposing arbitration to General Carranza was not indicated today.

U. S. TROOPS ARE READY TO GO TO CHINA CAPITAL

Trouble Expected at Peking Since President's Death.

IS QUIET AT PRESENT

French Send Large Body of Soldiers to the Scene.

LONDON, June 8.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Tien Tsin, China, says that the United States troops at that place have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Peking.

The despatch also says the French authorities already have despatched a strong force of native troops from the French protectorate at Annam to Peking. A delegation of officers of the bodyguard of the new president Li-Yuan-Hung has assured him of the fealty of the guard.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Twelve hundred men of the fifteenth infantry under Colonel Harry C. Hale, are stationed in Tien Tsin and along the railroad between there and Peking and a legion guard of 330 marines constitute the American military force in China. It was said at the war department Colonel Hale might take any part of this force to Peking in an emergency, without instruction. He probably prepared to act as soon as he heard of President Yuan Shi Kai's death.

State department advices from Peking have indicated a remarkably quiescent state of the Chinese public.

The reports of movements of foreign troops in China indicate apprehension of disturbances following the death of Yuan Shi Kai. Direct dispatches from China and Japan, however, have given the impression that notwithstanding the unsettled conditions of the last few months no serious disorders were expected. In fact, it was felt that the death of the president would have the result of ending the revolution.

G. O. P. CONVENTION, IN SHADOW OF TERRIBLE ONE, TAKES RECESS

Resolutions Committee, In Wrangle Over Platform, Causes Halt In Proceedings

DEPEW AND CANNON TALK

Progressives May Break Loose and Name Roosevelt at Meeting This Evening Despite Leaders

AUDITORIUM HALL, CHICAGO, June 8.—(2:40 p. m.)—Delay in calling the convention to order was said to have been to devise some means of preventing delegations from rushing to a nomination of Roosevelt today.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH REPUBLICAN CONVENTION PROPOSED BY JAS. A. GARFIELD.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will come to Chicago if "the republican convention desires me to address it." This he announced today in a reply made to the invitation he received last night from Senator William B. Jackson, of Maryland, asking him to come to Chicago.

The colonel declared in his answer that he hoped both the republicans and progressives would nominate a man who, if elected would place this nation where it belongs by making it true to itself and therefore true to all mankind.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Former Senator Jackson of Maryland, republican national committeeman from that state, sent a telegram to Col. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay urging him to come to Chicago in the interest of harmony and announcing he would do his utmost in case of an acceptance to have Mr. Roosevelt given the privilege of the convention floor.

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 8.—(1:31 p. m.)—The republican convention recessed until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

While the report of the rules committee was being read an Associated Press despatch from Oyster Bay quoting Colonel Roosevelt as willing to come to Chicago if the republican convention wanted him to address it, was handed to Chairman Harding. He showed it to Senator Borah, Murray Crane, Charles D. Hilles and it was then passed around to others.

S Senator Harding had no comment to make, but Senator Borah said: "If I were sure that Roosevelt actually said that himself I would be in favor of inviting him here."

A plank calling for national compulsory military training was defeated by the republican resolutions committee after much discussion, 19 to 23.

PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Ringling declarations of Americanism and for preparedness, military, spiritual, economic and industrial, are keynotes of the progressive national platform completed today in co-operation with the republican convention platform builders. The progressive platform leaders hoped to present their document to the convention today or tomorrow at the latest.

The "Americanism" plank, minus direct reference to hyphenism, declared in vigorous terms for upholding American rights on land and sea, guarding "the honor and influence of our nation" and maintenance of the integrity of international law.

The platform declares that the supreme duty of civilization is to make peace permanent after the war after which this nation should be prepared in every sphere. Regarding military preparedness, the platform declares for "a navy reformed to at least second rank in battle efficiency," a standing army of 250,000 men and "a system of universal military training—a citizen soldiery—controlled by the national government."

Regarding Mexico, the platform asserts that "very resources of the government should be forthwith used to end these conditions."

Other platform declarations are for woman suffrage; regulation of industry and "just distribution of its returns;" conservation, re-establishment of the American merchant marine; national highways development; a permanent tariff commission and a protective tariff.

The floor of the republican convention was but a fraction filled ten minutes before the hour set for convening and there was every indication of delay in beginning the second day's session.

The convention called to order at 11:25 and the Rev. Monsignor Francis G. Kelley, offered prayer.

Chairman Harding was ready to go on with the next business, but the band began "Rock of Ages." When through the first bar however, the band leader said he was out of order and stopped.

Mr. Harding then called for the report of the credentials committee. Senator Smoot, the chairman came up on the platform to make the report and was greeted with applause.

The report, recommending the seating of 987 delegates was read by the senator with a list of the decisions in contested cases. It excluded two delegates from the triet of Columbia, admitted each from Alaska and Hawaii.

S Senator Smoot moved the action of the report. There was objection. A rolling chorus "ayes" put it through.

The report of the committee on permanent organization was next.

William S. Hahn of Ohio made the report recommending the temporary organization be made permanent. Former Representative Bennett of New York took the gavel and put the question and it was carried.

Mr. Bennett then presented Senator Harding as permanent chairman. There was quite a demonstration and when he tried to gavel it down the crowd cheered a little louder.

Repeated whacks of the gavel only brought more of a demonstration. The delegates rose and the show rolled leader. It was the longest sustained demonstration of the convention so far. Finally the crowd quieted and Mr. Harding thanked the convention for its approval.

The report of the rules committee was next but it was not ready and at the chairman's request the band started up again, while awaiting the report.

The chairman stopped the music to recognize Senator Smoot again for a supplemental report from the credentials committee. It proposed to give votes to the six delegates from Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines. It was adopted without opposition.

That made the total number of votes in the convention 989, making 495 votes necessary to a nomination.

Finally the report of the rules committee was ready and National Committeeman C. B. Warren of Michigan presented it. It was a unanimous report and had been published. Briefly the rules of the convention are those of the house of representatives with certain modifications to adapt them to the needs of so different a body.

The rules report was adopted after a brief explanation by Senator Warren.

Chairman Harding then announced ex-Secretary Stimson and Mr. Sweet of New York a committee to escort Chauncey M. Depew to the platform to make an address.

The convention was in session about two hours and did nothing more than perfect its permanent organization and listen to speeches by Chauncey M. Depew, former Speaker "Uncle Joe" Cannon and Senator Borah.

Dissenting reports on the platform planks were carried to the full committee by the sub-committee and the convention was forced to wait while the committee discussed these measures.

The general tone of Mr. Depew's speech was for national preparedness and the convention approved it. "When I turn to a pacifist," he said, "I turn to a leading exponent. My friend, Mr. Bryan, is here in the hall."

The former secretary was in the press stand as a newspaper correspondent and sat smiling at the reference to himself and the laughter that followed.

Mr. Depew spoke 30 minutes and then there were calls for other speakers, and after Chairman Harding had restored order, he introduced former Speaker Cannon as "Grand Old Uncle Joe."

Without the celebrated black cigar "Uncle Joe" bowed and smiled. When he got to discussing Americanism, Mr. Cannon practically repeated the "melting pot" speech he delivered several months ago in the house during the passage of the immigration bill.

Mr. Cannon closed by predicting that "the gates of hell" would not prevail against the republican platform if it were made broad enough to cover all Americans.

Chairman Harding then presented Senator Borah of Idaho. There was a good bit of a demonstration for him.

Senator Borah spoke 18 minutes, holding his audience in his usual way, and then Herbert Parsons moved that the convention recess until 4 p. m. to wait further for the resolutions committee. There were shouts of "good" and the delegates were moving out before the motion was formally carried. The recess was taken at 1:31 o'clock.

"PEACE" DOWNS IN SCRAP.

G. O. P. and Bull Moose Drifting Apart at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 8.—As political leaders gathered for the second day's session of the republican and progressive national conventions it became more and more apparent that there would be two tickets in the field.

Victor Murdock, chairman of the progressive national committee, summed up the whole situation when he said today:

"Well, we left the door open, and the republicans don't seem to be coming in."

That was the progressive leader's reply to inquiries as to whether there remained any prospect for harmony and whether there was likely to be appointed today conference committees representing both parties to receive and pass upon peace suggestions.

Republican leaders too, discounted the success of the peace talk saying that action had been delayed for so long that a majority of the republican delegates already have decided to proceed without regard for any third party, and nominate Justice Hughes to whom the most support has been gathered.

There are some among the progressives and among Roosevelt republicans as well, who still believe that the colonel himself could save the day if he would come to Chicago.

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts who was defeated for republican delegate-at-large from Massachusetts on a Roosevelt ticket pleaded with progressive leaders to bring Colonel Roosevelt on without delay. Word came from Oyster Bay, however, that Colonel Roosevelt had received the telegram from Republican National Committeeman Jackson of Maryland, sent yesterday, urging him to come here in the interest of harmony. While the colonel announced it was not his present intention to accept the invitation, he would make public his reply later, and he did not indicate what his answer would be.

The republican nomination for president probably will be made in the Coliseum tomorrow but it is not expected the convention will adjourn before Saturday. Ostensibly the session will be prolonged to give more deliberate consideration than is usual to a nomination for second place, but the real purpose, it is believed, is to avoid adjournment before the progressive convention has acted.

The progressive convention probably will not nominate before Saturday. There will only be a few hours of session today and that will be devoted to platform making and other routine.

The delegates are confident that on Saturday they will name as their ticket Roosevelt and Johnson, their standard bearers of four years ago. While there has been little real discussion by republicans of vice presidential possibilities and it is recognized that geographical conditions and political expediency will govern, considerable talk was heard today indicating that there might be concentration on either former Vice President Fairbanks of Indiana or former Senator Burton of Ohio. Nothing will be settled as to the vice presidency, however, until the head of the ticket has been chosen.

TRYING TO BE PROGRESSIVE.

Republicans Are Framing Platform Intended to Catch Votes.

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 8.—The republican committee on resolutions by a vote of 26 to 21, decided to incorporate in the platform a plank endorsing in principle, woman suffrage.

The full committee on resolutions did not resume its work until 11 o'clock, when it immediately entered upon the consideration, at the Coliseum, of the sub-committee's draft of a platform.

Much interest centers about the declaration dealing with affairs in Mexico, owing largely to the fact that the members of the sub-committee developed differences on this question.

The provision adopted by the sub-committee developed differences on this question.

The provisions adopted by the sub-committee in addition to its censure of the democratic administration of affairs in Mexico calls for the protection of American lives and property, not on the Mexican border alone but throughout Mexico.

The platform specifically calls for legislation for the protection against child labor, and just as specifically declares for general workmen's compensation legislation, and for legislation for the compensation to workmen engaged in the federal service.

There is a plank devoted to merchant marine in general terms and another calling for the conservation of American resources, but the latter is modified so as to require that such conservation shall not be administered as to interfere with the utilization of the resources by the people of the country.

The preparedness plank will declare both for military and industrial preparedness. Provisions relative to the increase in the strength of the army and navy—able to meet any possible foe—entirely satisfactory to the Navy League and similar organizations, have been incorporated.

A constructive program for industrial preparedness is urged upon congress.

The platform contains a strong declaration for the adoption of a system of universal military training.

The restoration of a protective tariff is declared essential to the prosperity of the nation. It is declared that unless a protective tariff is restored, serious consequences will follow the close of the war. The tariff plank also declares for a tariff commission.

The platform declares in favor of a merchant marine, reaffirms the Monroe Doctrine, and declares for restriction of immigration through a literacy test, as advocated by organized labor.

In order to meet the views of progressives, some of the social justice planks of the 1912 Bull Moose platform are incorporated. Among them is a provision favoring the enactment of child labor and women's hours of work in factories which do an interstate commerce business. The social justice planks which by unanimous consent are omitted from the platform, include the recall and the initiative and referendum.

BIG LOAN FOR STREET PAVING APPROVED

Council last night took action to go on with improvements of city streets already under way and authorized the city auditor to borrow $233,000 to pay property owners' share of paving in 19 streets. City notes will be issued as security in anticipation of collection of assessments which property owners must pay for the paving. Work will start at once, contracts to be awarded within a few days.

Robb avenue will be paved from Main to West streets, council decided last night. Commissioners of the county will let the contract. The city pays for all work inside the city boundaries.

Unless weeds are cut from all properties, Service Director A. L. McNeany announces he will cut the weeds and the cost of same will be charged to the property. Solicitor Light said this was awful. He was also ordered to compel railroads to repair grade crossings.

'SAFETY FIRST' IS EXEMPLIFIED BY C. H. & D. EXHIBIT

Train Between Market and North Streets Until 9 O'clock Tonight.

Unique and Instructive Exposition of Interest to All.

The "Safety First" train, which is making a tour of the United States under the direction of the United States government, arrived in Lima this morning.

The train is parked between Market and North streets and is open to the public today from 1 in the afternoon to 9 o'clock tonight. During the stay of the exhibit in this city the high street crossing of the railroad will be blocked until the departure of the train tonight. According to the itinerary of the exhibit train the next stop will be at Chicago. Yesterday an exhibit was given at Piqua.

The city officials and newspaper men were then set to be shown the exhibits on the train. A number of men on each car perfectly familiar with workings and information in regard to exhibits meet all visitors at the door and take them through the car in their charge, carefully explaining in detail everything of interest contained.

The exhibits of the following departments and organizations are contained in the 10 cars: Treasury, army, navy, interior, agriculture, interstate commerce commission and the American Red Cross society.

The coast guard exhibit shows a modern, full sized, self-bailing surf boat, beach apparatus wagon, rapid firing gun for throwing life lines to ships in distress, and breeches buoy for life saving at sea. The public health service shows by means of charts and wax figures the manner in which dreaded diseases are kept away from the shores of the United States. Each of these two exhibits are on separate cars but come under the department of treasury.

Probably two of the most interesting exhibits contained on the train are those confined to the army and navy. The latter is so extensive that it is necessary to use two cars to accommodate the models, etc. Among the various things shown are trench digging outfits, bridge outfits, models of 12 and 14 inch guns, rapid firing guns, a regular size torpedo, model cruisers, wireless outfits, nautical instruments and parts of aeroplanes.

Under the auspices of the department of the interior, many things are shown in regard to mines and the reclamation of land. Both of the latter as displayed on separate cars. The manner in which thousands of lives are saved each year by means of apparatus invented to rescue imprisoned miners from the poisonous gases following an explosion are shown, as well as the way in which the bowels of the earth is robbed of its wealth. The reclamation service shows the manner in which thousands of acres of land, considered many years ago to be practically worthless, has been turned into fertile and productive soil.

Under the head of the department of agriculture the working of the forest service and the weather bureau. The conservation of the forests of the United States is one of the biggest problems faced at the present time. The manner in which destructive forest fires are suppressed is clearly demonstrated. The value of the weather bureau is shown, in the fact, that many millions of dollars are annually saved by timely warning of the approach of floods and storms.

The exhibit prepared by the interstate commerce commission is for the benefit of the passengers and employees and should for this reason appeal to everyone. The following things are shown hand brakes, car couplers, uncoupling levers, sill steps, ladders, hand holds, running boards, signals, and block signals.

On a separate car is contained the exhibit of the American Red Cross society. Here special attention is given to methods used in first aid to injured.

Thomas of Milford, Utah which was accompanied to Lima this morning. Services were at the Whitley mortuary in East North street, where the body rested. The Rev. A. D. Welby of the Secaucus Home, officiated. Interment was at Woodlawn. The child died Sunday of pneumonia. The father is a brother to Policeman Thomas.

race and may appear on the list of entries. It is not known what decision he will reach.

If the latter gets into the game Allen county will have a peculiar phenomenon, in the presence of the three Allen county rivals of 1910 again combatting one another, with a fourth added. As for the number, it is certain the county will have three candidates, for Riddle was last seen on his way to the board of elections office while Welby was slipping around gathering the required signatures. If that isn't a clue there aren't any.

It is now generally believed that J. Henry Goeke will not be in the race. This recalls the ultimatum which he issued three weeks ago, when he intimated that he would run unless Cunningham hid himself into the tall weeds.

This latter has not done, his only answer being the filing of a petition. Now just what Henry will do becomes an interesting mystery. Judging from what he declared a few weeks ago he is getting ready to do something, but what form his wrath will take is yet to be seen. He may throw his organization to one man, he may take the stump against Cunningham without backing any particular candidate or he may turn back to law and quit politics. And—he may run. Three guesses for a cent.

Advice from the other counties are devoid of startling messages or unexpected information. L. M. Studevant and J. E. Russell were the only entries in Shelby county at two o'clock today. With the exception of Hunt, who filed three weeks ago, no entries appeared in Miami, Coombs withdrawing. "N. entries for district or state" read the flash from Mercer. Auglaize and Darke failed to bring forth anything interesting, but of course there is no telling what might happen before ten o'clock this evening. Of the "mentioned" candidates only two are believed to be in earnest about filing petitions—Hussey of Shelby and Mannix of Darke, but the latter has not signified his aim.

Dr. J. E. Monger, of Greenville, is the only man thus far proposed for the state central committee. E. A. Macbeth of Lima was considering the matter, it is known, but on recalling that Allen county had the job before Lee of Shelby landed it, decided to stay out. If Monger has any opposition it has been kept well covered.

A. P. Sandles, the familiar "Put" of Putnam, has filed his declaration of candidacy for the democratic nomination for gubernatorial honors. His opponent will be Cox Willis has two opponents, R. A. Mark of Cincinnati and George W. Shaw of Cleveland.

Two new candidates for county commissioners entered the field late today. William H. Ebermann, of 315 North Jameson, has filed a declaration bearing the names of E. L. Kirk, D. H. Toland, H. J. Brunk, J. R. Cooney and Harold Smith, all of Lima.

J. A. Miller, of Spencerville, filed papers signed by Ralph E. and P. F. Veldhardt, Enos Southworth, J. B. Funderland and Perry O. Bodey, all of Spencerville.

Three more candidates for nomination "weighed in" today by filing declarations of candidacy according to Columbus reports. They were

William Schwenc, Bucyrus, for nomination for attorney general on democratic ticket, E. J. Hoppe, of Cleveland, for democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, Harry R. Probasco, of Cincinnati, for republican nomination for United States senator.

Arthur L. Fisher has declared his candidacy for the democratic nomination as survivor, his papers being signed by J. O. Ohler, Aaron Lones, L. D. Murray, W. E. Shook, Lima, W. N. Cook, Bath township, and D. F. Funderland, of Spencerville. This makes five entries in the race for that office.

Here's the line-up up to press time for the county handicap Democratic.

For Representative in Congress—N. W. Cunningham, Bluffton, T. F. Riddle, Lima, L. M. Studevant, Sidney, F. M. Hunt, Piqua, Benj. F. Veltz, Lima.

Judge of Court of Appeals (short term)—Kent W. Hughes, Lima; Benjamin Mock, Bucyrus, James D. Johnson, Celina, Harry Conn, Van Wert.

FINDS HUSBAND IS IN JOLIET PRISON

Young Woman Leaves Police Station After Heart-Breaking News.

A young lady who gave no name called at the police headquarters this morning and made inquiry as to the whereabouts of Conway, a man arrested in Lima three years ago and a woman who claimed to be his wife. Both of the prisoners were taken to Chicago by officers of that city where they stood trial on a charge of murdering a woman. Both of them were sent to serve terms in the Joliet prison.

When informed that the man she made inquiry about was in prison, she broke in tears and stated that he was her husband. She claimed to have been married to him when she was 16 years of age. Although she seemed very anxious to obtain information in regard to his arrest and sentence she refused to disclose her identity, but stated that she would return later in the day after visiting some of Conway's relatives.

At the time of the arrest of the couple in this city, they had just finished a theatrical tour and were making their home in Lima at one of the hotels. Conway's real name is Kramer. They were taken in custody on advice from Chicago police. The body of the murdered woman was found cut up and packed up in a trunk.

The husband and two sons are left. The time and the officiating clergyman for the funeral have not been decided upon. Services will be held at Fletcher chapel and interment will be at Fletcher cemetery, in Perry township.

MRS. IRA P. CARNES YIELDS TO DEATH

Woman Prominent For Years Dies After Brief Illness.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Robb Carnes, widow of the late Ira P. Carnes, who died at 1:10 o'clock this morning, will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence at 315 West Market street. The Rev. Thomas Knox, pastor of the Market Street Presbyterian church, will officiate. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

Although she had not been in good health for some time, her present illness dates to six days back. A general breakdown of the nervous and mental faculties resulted in cerebral hemorrhage, which caused death. She was 65 years old.

With her when the end came were all her children, Walter B. Carnes, N. Y., John R., at home, and Mrs. Sabine Carnes Phelps, wife of Hugh Phelps, of Tacoma, Wash. A sister, Mrs. M. J. Armstrong, mother of Mrs. B. F. Thomas, of Lima, and John M. Robb, a brother, of Buffalo, N. Y., are left. She was a sister to the late Theodore D. Robb.

During the life of Mr. Carnes the two took a prominent part in social activities. Mrs. Carnes was affiliated with the Market Street Presbyterian church.

INFANTS' FUNERAL.

COMMISSION WILL DECIDE RIVER PLANS

The city council last night decided to allow a commission appointed by Mayor Simpson to decide whether work on the river improvement should be started following the sale of the $100,000 worth of bonds, or instead the property owners who benefit by the improvement be forced to pay for the cost.

Under the plan generally accepted last night by members of the board, a member of the commission will be appointed from each of the city wards. The six men then will be asked to appoint a seventh. City Engineer Bryan has been instructed to attend all meetings of the commission and lend them assistance and advice needed.

It was stated that under the plan submitted for the improvement of the river by Sherman, the bond issue would be far too small to complete the project. It was stated further that this would cause citizens to wonder why the work could not be completed when once started.

BOYS GIVEN CHANCE.

Harry Henley, 14, residing at 728 East Albert street, Edward Wallace, 16, of 548 South Pine street, and I. Smith, 14, of 909 East Albert street, must work and earn money with which to put back the pennies in a baby's bank they stole from the home of Edward Sellers, 5 miles south of Lima. Otherwise, they will be sent to the industrial school.

They become wards of the juvenile court and will make regular reports. Judge F. C. Becker imposed the sentence.

ARTIFICIAL EARS.

Artificial ears are so skillfully made that they may with difficulty be distinguished from natural ones, so it is claimed.

When the person who has lost an ear applies to the manufacturer for a substitute there is made a mold of the remaining ear. If there be left any part of the other, a mold of that part also must be taken to assist in the fitting of the artificial. Manufacturers assert that if two ears are alike, and that it takes a skillful workman to prepare an ear from the mold or molds.

When finished the new ear is pasted on the stump or simply set in the position of the lost ear. It is really only the first artificial ear that is expensive, the chief cost pertaining to the making of the mold. Vulcanized rubber, which can be bent and twisted, has been found to constitute the best material for the making of artificial ears.—Detroit Free Press

Mrs. Patton is named in the divorce petition, the wife claiming that upon various occasions, Miller and the Patton woman committed adultery and that he often remained away at night from his home, and was with her.

Mrs. Miller asks that her husband's dower in inlot 4562 in Van Dyke's addition to Lima, be barred, she may be given temporary and permanent alimony. She was granted an injunction, preventing Miller from entering her home at 623 West Kibby street, or interfering with her in any way.

CLEAN-UP PRIZES AWARDED.

Mrs. W. C. Bell, Mrs. Paul Ashton and Miss Frances Maitre, committee from the Child Welfare association, have decided the first prizes for work done by school children in cleaning up the city must go to the McKinley and Emerson schools. Each will receive $15, the funds to go towards equipment for public playgrounds at the buildings.

Washington and Irving buildings will receive the second prizes and each will get $10 in equipment. The amount of work done and best efforts accomplished was the basis of merit in awarding the prizes.

TRAINMEN PROTEST 'ASSUMED RISK' PLEA IN RAIL ACCIDENTS

Brotherhoods Take Care of Their Own Dead and Injured.

Facts and Figures Are Submitted by Men's Publicity Bureau.

CLEVELAND, O., June 8.—The following statement was issued today by the four Transportation Brotherhoods who are campaigning jointly for an eight-hour day.

Who pays for the depreciation in human life, the result of railway operation?

When a car or locomotive is smashed up, a fund has been provided for its renewal, but when in the same wreck, an engineer, fireman, conductor or brakeman has been crushed out of all semblance to his former self, the other employees of these classes whose time has not yet come, dig down into their pockets and pay for this human railroad wreckage.

The common law doctrine of "assumed risk" has been forced on railroad employees as a part of their compensation. To use a western expression, they have been educated to expect "to die with their boots on."

In no other industry is the occupational hazard so great as in the making up and transportation of railway trains. The railroad industry, however, reflects no recognition of this hazard in the wages of its employees.

The records of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers show that it has paid out to its members for deaths and disabilities, the sum of $18,109,167.75. More than 60 per cent of all deaths and disabilities of members of this organization are caused by railroad accidents.

During the year 1915, the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers who compelled to contribute the great sum of $2,270,279.92—to the widows and orphans of its members who were killed during that one year and on account of injuries and disabilities incurred.

The members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen during the year of 1915, paid out from their meager earnings, on account of members killed and disabled in service, the sum of $2,421,558.17.

Members of the Order of Railway Conductors put up $1,761,417.49 for the relief of their human wreckage in 1915.

The extra hazardous nature of the employ on a freight train, makes absurd, any comparison of wages received, with railway clerks, section hands and other employees.

Considering the fact that train employees are the most skilled of all railroad wage earners and that they must pay out such enormous sums as above on account of "human wreckage," they are entitled to a work day sufficiently short to enable them to perform their arduous duties with a rested body and brain.

Freight train crews should at least receive as much as is paid in other trades, so that they could better afford to meet the losses occasioned by deaths and injuries of their members.

It is certain that a reduction in hours of labor with proper rest and recuperation will better fortify the human mind and body against accidents of a personal nature and men in freight train service are now determined to have a shorter work day and to have their working conditions approximate as far as possible, that which obtains in other trades.

Railroad officials claim that if the demands of the train crews are granted, it will mean an enormous increase in wages paid and that the cost of any increase will fall upon the public.

If the officials really believe this, why their strenuous opposition? Does the history of railroading show any instance of any great anxiety on the part of the railroads to protect the public?

The officials also make statements that the cost will come out of the pockets of the stockholders and in the next breath they claim that the cost will fall upon the farmer and shipper.

The employees claim that the truth of the matter is, that there will be little or no increase in cost by granting an eight-hour day and in proof of this claim they cite the fact that sworn statements of the railroads in the recent federal arbitration case in Chicago, show that 78 per cent of through and irregular freight trains now make the basic division of 100 miles in less than 22 hours, which would leave only 22 per cent of trains whose speed would have to be accelerated in order to avoid the payment of overtime.

THE ISLE OF MAN.

The people of the Isle of Man, called by the peculiar appellation of Manxmen, are known to the world at large chiefly through the peculiar creatures who inhabit the pages of Hall Caine's novels. Many an American tourist has visited the island just to see if there are really people like that to be found.

While disappointed in this respect, the tourist has no reason to complain. The Isle of Man is an interesting little body of land, in appearance, history and population. It is a compact exhibit of variegated climate and scenery, a continent in miniature. There are coastal cliffs and beaches, rolling low-lands, rounded hills and craggy mountain ranges, all within a ten mile stretch, for the whole island is only about twelve miles wide. Nature has decorated it with a color-scheme of green and yellow. The lower hills are smoothly forest-covered, while the plain is golden with a wealth of gorges such as you see in no other part of the island kingdom.

The people of the Isle of Man have the distinction of belonging to a separate and individual branch of the Celtic race. They share with the Irish the privilege of claiming St. Patrick as a patron—there is not a snake to be found on the island. In appearance they are rather more like the Scotch-draw Scotch. Light eyes and complexion combined with black hair give the most commonplace of them something of a striking appearance. Their old national costume of homespun was picturesque to the last degree, but the ruthless advance of the hand-me-down has apparently routed it.

The Manxmen are farmers and fishermen first and herring fishermen above all. They regard the herring as the king of the sea-fish, and respect him both as a source of revenue and an article of diet. There is a story of an old-time English nobleman who by a series of unexpected deaths came into the over-lordship of the Isle of Man. He new vassals received him coldly—he was not one of the elect. But in duty bound they gave him a banquet; and his lordship seeing how matters stood and knowing his people, sat him down and ate 24 herrings. That settled it. He was paired with open arms as a manxman in the wool.

ARMY NEEDS RUBBER.

The war has had its effect on the rubber trade in Germany. The manufacture of rubber sporting goods, toys, articles of luxury and the like has been almost entirely curtailed. Had a demand existed, the lack of the necessary raw materials, even in substitute qualities.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside, no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head, no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, golds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach. It is a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid our system of these vile poisons and toxins, also to prevent their formation. To feel like young folks, feel like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate a hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

OLD TIME "BELLING" AT WAPAK WEDDING

Bridegroom is James Orr,
Wells-Fargo Driver,
of Lima.

A marriage license was issued in Wapakoneta yesterday to Jerome Orr, 20, driver for the Wells-Fargo Express company in Lima, and Cleta Knoech, 18, clerk of Clay township, Auglaize county. They were married at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the Methodist parsonage in Wapakoneta by the Rev. W. F. Martin, pastor. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Anna Orr and Otto Buchanan, an uncle, were guests.

Orr formerly resided in Wapakoneta. Miss Knoech, whose home is near Geyer, has been serving as clerk in a drug-store in Wapakoneta. They will reside in Lima.

The Wapakoneta News of last evening says of them:

"Not every couple applying at the office of the probate judge, at the court house, for a marriage license sets a send-off with an old-fashioned 'belling' before the nuptial knot is tied, but that very thing happened Wednesday morning when Jerome Orr of Lima, and Miss Cleta Knoech of Clay township, appeared in these official quarters.

"At any rate, there were ten or more county officials and other court house attaches on the job in the corridor, armed with all sorts of noise making instruments, and the din was something terrific when the couple appeared. They 'ran the gamut' smiling, and escaped to the M. E. parsonage, where Rev. W. F. Martin tied the marriage knot."

NEUTRALITY

There are always plenty of fault-finders with everything which may be done or attempted. There will always be those whose personal interests are such that they are biased either for or against this movement or that. And human nature is so constructed that many individuals see in every event or spectacle just what they desire to see.

When a baseball umpire calls a player either safe or out the crowd agrees or disagrees, more because of definite hope than because of definite knowledge. In close decisions those who want to see the runner safe sincerely believe him safe, and the same attitude holds good with the opposite side on the reverse decision. If a reader expects or hopes to see certain impressions conveyed in printed lines he will find them there, no matter whether or not they are visible to the impartial observer.

Take the matter of the war as an example. Suppose a military expert should write a book containing such a foolishly axiomatic excerpt as this: "If the Germans win the allies will lose, and if the latter win the former will lose." Now the chances are that sympathizers of both causes would condemn the volume as biased in the opposite direction from that to which they leaned. Germans would say the statement was pro-ally and allies would brand it as pro-German. Such is the trend of the popular mind.

The wise man never wastes time trying to figure out hidden meanings between the lines of what he reads or between the acts of the plays he witnesses. The reason for this is that he will always see just what he wants to see, and that which he interprets is generally farthest from the mind of the originator. Thus hasty criticism is often based on misinterpretation totally unwarranted by a cold, judicial dissection of the facts.

That is why, when a reader of the news of the Chicago convention, for example, accuses the press agencies and news bureaus of partiality when he is himself blinded by partiality of the opposite sort. Neutrality consists of being condemned from all quarters. And such condemnation is generally the best vindication available for the agency or bureau in question. The application can be found closer home than Chicago, too.

HARDING'S KEYNOTE

Warren G. Harding, in the capacity of Republican keynoter, emitted at Chicago yesterday just the sort of address which would logically be expected from him. It was the old-fashioned stump speech, filled with spread-eagle oratory and bloody shirt waving, to say nothing of meaningless generalities with no applications of more than the vaguest nature. What, if anything, did he advocate?

Harding wants preparedness. But what does he mean by preparedness? Would he follow the Roosevelt policy—every man a soldier and every woman a trainer of soldiers? Or would he limit his program to the Wilson attitude of reasonable preparedness for national defense? Is he advocating war or merely urging insurance against war? You cannot tell from his words.

He would strengthen our Mexican policy. But would he invade the republic on our south with what we in delusion call an army, sacrificing boys without adequate training, or would he do the best he could under the circumstances to avoid further trouble? There is nothing in his address to indicate the course.

The keynote implies that the United States is weak with regard to English interference with trade and with German interference with passenger traffic. But what substitute does he advance? Is it a diplomatic breach with either or with both? Is it war he wants, or would he continue the Wilson policy of getting the greatest possible results out of diplomacy before turning to the only other alternative? He doesn't tell us that.

All in all, Harding's keynote is a successful attempt to straddle. It says nothing with regard to an issue or a platform to be erected about that issue. It gets nowhere with a definite program and leaves the convention no closer to a platform than it was two weeks ago. And that is far enough to worry the party.

THE PRIMARY LIST

Tonight the list of candidates, state, congressional and county, who will appear on the ballot in the August primary will close. Tomorrow the voters will know the names of the many men from among whom to select a ticket for the November election. And in the selection of that ticket the voters at the primary will do much toward deciding the majority of the ticket in the fall election.

Every voter should participate in the primary election—if he does not he has no just claim to the privilege of objecting when he finds on the fall ticket a candidate whom he considers objectionable or weak. And at the August battle the voter who has at heart the interest of the community, as well as the larger units such as the state and districts—senatorial, congressional and judicial—will exercise judgment in the selection of his ticket.

He should demand honesty and integrity of his candidates. That is the prime requisite. The next thing he should examine is the capability of the candidate to discharge the duties of the office which he seeks. But one thing he should not overlook is the personnel of the element behind the candidate.

GOOD EVENING: Nobody can complain because there aren't enough candidates to go around.

NEW NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

MISS JUANITA HANSEN, who plays the heroine's part in "The Secret of the Submarine," is trying to qualify as the leading feminine dare-devil of the screen. While taking a scene recently, she was required to hang on a grapevine directly over a menacing gunpoint. Without a murmur of complaint she hung grimly to her perilous position, until suddenly the vine snapped, precipitating its helpless burden into the quicksands. A last-minute about the struggling girl's shoulders saved her in time from death.

At another time, Miss Hansen remained within two minutes of certain death in a water-logged submarine. Ridding in a racing car, as a least a thirty-foot gap in a bridge, and losing control of an aeroplane while crossing a mountain chasm, this little blond Spartan considers a very tame experience. She has to admit, however, that being dropped in to a cellar with hands and feet bound, while an exploding bomb wrecked the building sent a shiver up and down even her fearless spine.

AND SHE WON'T PLAY EMOTIONAL ROLES

Eva Tanguay got tired of waiting for movie producers to offer her that $500,000 or $1,000,000 or $10,000 a week, or whatever it was she asked, and is going to produce her own film play.

Eva's is one of the few really valuable names that have not yet been used in movies. The film play in which she is to make her debut is one she has had in her trunk for nearly two years now. No information as to its character has been given out. However, we are assured that Miss Tanguay does not plan to do emotional roles like those of Sarah Bernhardt in the movies. Mrs. Carter, Theda Bara and Clara Kimball Young.

Pauline Frederick's most successful role as a temptress is said to be in her own kitchen when she bakes gingerbread which is compounded according to a secret formula discovered in Boston.

A QUESTION OF SIZE.

If old Garge Jones was the most inequitable man in the village Tom Morton was certainly the surliest.

One afternoon, as Garge perambulated slowly along, on one narrow street, he paused at Tom's garden fence and gazed inquiringly over at Tom, who was busily engaged in nailing a large box together.

"Afternoon, Tom!" said the old chitlin' genially. "Whatever be 'ee puttin' that great box together for?" "To hold all your questions, if so be as it's big enough!"

Garge eyed him in pained silence for a few moments. Then he took an empty match box from his pocket and threw it over to Sandy. "Then that'll do for yer civil answers if so be as it's small enough," he retorted quietly.—London Express.

SHARP EDGED TEETH OFTEN ARE THE CAUSE OF CANCER

Constant irritation of any part of the body is recognized as an important contributory cause of cancer. One of the forms of irritation which has been repeatedly observed to result in this disease is the constant friction of the sharp edges of bad teeth or of imperfect plates against the tongue.

Sores on the tongue caused in this way do not always become cancers. Neither are wounds from toy pistols always followed by lockjaw. But there is danger in both cases. SHOULD MENND BAD TOOTH OFF.

A bad tooth should never be tolerated in any event. The danger of cancer is only one good reason for having it attended to. Cancer of the tongue may occur at any age, but it is most common between 40 and 60. Statistics show few cases under 30. The majority of these cases occurred to women. In the later years men were found to be more frequently attacked.

As one-third of all cases investigated have been shown to be definitely associated with jagged or derayed teeth or imperfect plates it would seem that there is one method of preventing cancer. IS ONLY NEGLIGENCE. It is probably that other conditions occurring in combination with bad teeth increase the likelihood of cancer of the tongue. But, the removal of this form of irritation is so simple a matter that deaths in cases in this kind must be charged to neglect.

CHILD IS RESCUED FROM DEEP WELL

Little Earline Clevenger, of Vaughnsville, Narrowly Escapes Drowning.

Earline Clevenger, 7 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clevenger of Vaughnsville, fell in a well containing 15 feet of water and was none the worse off for her experience. She was in the city with her mother, coming to take her music lesson of Prof. Clifton Richmond. A 1 told the story of her near-drowning.

She had gone to the home of Beatrice Slusser, not far from where the Clevenger family lives in Vaughnsville, to play. An old well walled up with stone, as on the Slusser farm.

Mrs. Clevenger called Mrs. Slusser by telephone, asking that the child be sent home. She went to look for the little girl and found Beatrice standing by the wall, looking into it. She cried to her to come away.

The little girl replied, "I can't, mamma. Earline is in the well." Mrs. Slusser sounded an alarm and neighbors assembled at the home. The child was rescued by Mr. Slusser and a farm-hand. She had gone down once when rescued.

Her dress was torn from her back and the buttons from her shoes in the struggle she had made. The fact that her clothing caught in the rough edges of the stone wall as she came up and held her head above water, was all that saved the life of the child.

HOSPITALITY

There is nothing so pleasant as that warm glow of comfort that comes to one when they are received into a home with true hospitality. There is no one who does not like and admire a hospitable person. And a nice thing about it, it is a feeling that comes straight from the heart, unhindered by worldly possessions.

I once read a story about a man who was invited to stay for tea at the house of a poor friend. No excuses were made for the meal which consisted of tea and crackers, but so much cheer and good will and sincere hospitality were mixed with it, that the man has never forgotten the best meal in his life.

Now that the summer is coming and friends will visit friends more than usual, it is a good thing for you dear house wife to remember the real meaning of welcoming a guest. Don't worry about what you have to feed them, or that there should be new wall paper in the guest room, and that you don't belong to the country club. That counts the least, it's the real wanting them to be with you for a while, and what is yours is theirs by their right. A cheerful word, a gentle laugh, sincere affection, and a display of the enjoyment you are having from the companionship of your guest, is far more beautiful and a lot more satisfactory in its results, than the full purse with the empty heart. Don't worry yourself about what you shall do and don't worry your guest about it. Let your hospitality be a real grace in it spontaneously, for it loses grace when it calculates. It is most charming and acceptable when least studied.

Our RURAL REPORTER says that with the wars and the convention at Chicago no one has time to paint the signs for the summer boarder.

Cheer Up DEARS, patent leather pumps draw awfully in hot weather, and the papers will tell us all about it.

LOSING NO OPPORTUNITIES.

A visitor to a small country town lost his dog, an animal which he prized very much.

Rushing to the office of the local newspaper, he handed in an advertisement, offering $50 reward for the return of his dog.

Half an hour later he thought he would add to his advertisement the words: "No questions asked." So he hurried to the office again.

When he got there, the place was empty save for a small boy, who looked very sulky.

"Where's the staff?" asked the tourist, glancing round the deserted room.

"Out looking for your dog," was the aggrieved retort.—Daily Mail and Express, Toronto.

MARRYING A BUTTERFLY

By MRS. EVA LEONARD Y

The Future Looks Dark and Gloomy to Ralph Gordon.

"WELL, mother has found me a good maid," announced Ethel cheerfully as her husband came in the door, fagged and dispirited.

"Thank Fortune!" he ejaculated fervently. "Now if anyone dared hope that you could keep her, life might seem worth living again."

"Before I would make a god of my appetite!" There was a scornful toss of the elaborately combed head. "Men are so wedded to cooks."

"I most emphatically wish I was wedded to a cook," exclaimed Ralph grinning. Ethel curled her lips in scorn. "If you wish to bind me to you with hoops of steel, learn to cook."

"If it comes to keeping my husband's love by tickling his appetite, it can go." There was cold disdain in Ethel's tone.

"All joking aside, little girl, you would be so independent if you could do your own cooking. One can always get some one to do the heavy work, but when you have to depend on servants for the food you eat, the situation is often desperate and you positively refuse to even try."

Ralph's tone was reproachful. "After all you used to say about not caring whether I knew about housework or not, Ralph Gordon, I certainly feel disappointed in you and I have reason to."

Ethel rose and walking over to the piano, began strumming a waltz.

During a pause in the music

Ralph asked: "When is this Godsend of a maid coming?" Ethel did not deign to answer, but launched forth into another lively dance.

During another pause in the music

Ralph still more abraded his wife's nerves by asking: "Did your mother say this paragon of a maid could cook?" His tone challenged.

She lifted the end of her nose in disgust as she glanced over her shoulder; still she said nothing. All the luster had faded from her conception of their love. He had asked her to learn to cook. He wanted her to be a common drudge, she thought bitterly to herself.

Seeing that he was to get no answer to his questions he retreated behind his paper and waited for her resentment to cool. When she left the piano he ventured:

"Are we to forego our usual light evening refreshments? After that dinner I must say I am in a state of collapse." She stalked scornfully into the kitchen and poured boiling water into the tiny teakettle that was to be kept hot on the chafing dish lamp. Ralph followed her and carried in the kettle, and turned on the electric toaster.

Ethel brought in the peaches. "Peaches! Good!" he exclaimed brightly. She handed him his tea with a martyred air, and the meal was eaten in silence.

Marriage is a strange affair. All his plans were awry. He could force nothing but trouble. Nothing had occurred, absolutely nothing, but all the future looked dark and troubled. He sat and smoked in brooding silence till the clock struck ten. When he went into the bedroom she lay with averted face, and did not turn and speak as he moved about the room preparing for bed. He leaned over and kissed her good-night before he lay down, but it was a meaningless kiss. Worn out with the long days' work he soon fell asleep. She could not sleep, but lay thinking the same thought over and over. "He has no right after all he said, absolutely no right—I never bargained to be his cook and that is what he expected evidently. It's unfair! Me a drudge!"

Mrs. R. W. Peck entertained the members of the Sunshine division of the Ladies' Guild of the Olivet church at her home yesterday afternoon. Mrs. E. E. Meyers gave a few vocal numbers, and the prize of a contest was won by Mrs. Miller. The division will be entertained at its next meeting by Mrs. C. E. Meyers.

HEIGHO FOR THE SUMMER TIME!

Copyright 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

THE little boy who went fishing with me the other day said, "Gee—you're a pretty good sport for a sissy!" when I fell into the pond and scrambled out again, dripping wet, without a whimper. It was just a plain case of Mahomet and the mountain—the fish did not come to me, so I plunged in after the fish!

"Do you think so, Johnny?" I spluttered, when I got my breath. "Only a sissy would have lost her balance and fallen into the pond, I'm thinking."

"That's all right, Miss Mary," he apologized for me. "Yer not much on the fishin', but yer pretty good on climbin'." I never would have got as far up in the maple tree as you did. How many eggs was there you saw in the nest?"

"Four little ones," I replied, wringing out my hair and spreading it in the sun to dry. "They must have been robin's eggs, for they were blue."

"If you climbed up there now," Johnny suggested with a twinkle in his eye, "I think you could tell me how many eggs the ma bird had hatched."

"For shame, Johnny," I laughed. "You want to see me take another fall—I know you do."

And these are the games I am playing the long, sunlit days of my first real vacation in many years. Blossom picking, tramping the hills for wild flowers, climbing trees and sitting in the cool, green-leaved branches or wading barefooted into the pond with the children of the village.

Mother is sitting out under a blossoming tree, embroidering, and it makes her think of those days when we were little children, before we broke up our home to go on the stage. How happy mothers are in the reflected happiness of their children, especially at this time of the Sometimes, you know, we are doing pictures, which call for winter robes, and right in the heart of July we are in the studio, wrapped up in our furs. Of course, for the exteriors we must go into the land of eternal snows, far into the northwest.

I cannot think of snows now that I am here among the blossoms, and yet it was only a few weeks ago when a carpet of white lay on these very meadows.

California is the land of springtime, and sometimes in the bleak months I cannot tell you I long for the green fields and people mountains, but in the east we have the advantage of the four seasons. After the trees and flowers have slept for many months we welcome them with a joyous cry when they paint the stripped, bare branches again with velvety leaves and blossoms.

The summer drives us to the beaches and the nights are tropical. The fall, with its harlequin landscapes, fills the world with color.

Answers to Correspondents

J. K. D.—I regret very much that I am unable to answer the very personal and somewhat impertinent questions you ask me.

Emma A.—Dear little girl, your very radical ideas will change and become more conservative as you grow older. And if you allow yourself to follow them now, you will regret it in after years.

Helen D.—Viola Dana played the leading part in "Gladiola". No, we are not related.

Evelyn M.—I have never heard that the two moving picture actors you mention are married. I think you are mistaken.

G. R.—I was at the entertainment on the evening you mention, but do not recall the incident you refer to. However, it was probably I whom you saw.

F. E. K.—I have never heard that the "Firing Line" was produced in pictures, and think you refer to some other well-known book.

DE PALMA QUILTS CLIPPING HAIR TO CLIP SPEED RECORD

Who ever heard of speed coming out of a barber shop? Does sound a little bit like a story of John D. Rockefeller mousing car fare home, but nevertheless it is a fact that Ralph De Palma, speed king and twice winner of the Vanderbilt cup and Elgin road races, as well as the 1915 Indianapolis race, was once a barber.

Not only was De Palma a barber but he started in at that job so young and small that it was necessary for him to stand on a box in order to soap the faces of his patrons. Ralph was born in Troia, Italy, but is known as an American driver, as he was removed, with or without his consent, to America.

Ralph De Palma.

When only eight years old, his life history is one full of humor when it is considered that he today stands as one of the greatest racing drivers in the country and the leading favorite for the $20,000 prize money offered by the Chicago Speedway to the winner of the second annual International Auto Derby, the greatest auto racing classic of the present day, which is to be run on June 10.

De Palma's early history leads one back to a grocery store where he worked as a delivery boy at $4 a week, $5 of which went to satisfy his craving for speed—a bicycle. Before the bicycle was fully paid for he was discharged for paying too much attention to the speed he could get out of it rather than the matter of deliveries of butter, eggs and sugar. He went to the bicycle dealer and offered to turn the wheel back, as he would be unable to pay the remaining installments. There fate stopped in and the dealer gave him a job.

Later on, when automobiles took the place of bicycles, the Brooklyn dealer changed his business to meet the new demand, and Ralph obtained an early knowledge of motor speed. Not a very thorough one, however, because the dealer would never let Ralph take the single car out of the shop. He would let him prop up the back wheels in the shop and turn on the juice. That was the extent of De Palma's experience so far as speeding and that shop were concerned.

It was shortly after that Ralph's father bought a barber shop for Ralph and his six brothers. Ralph was so small that he hardly stood as high as the chair, but that worried him but little. He worked at his trade and went on clipping away, all the time yearning for the chance to apply his knowledge of clipping records.

It finally came in 1908, when he drove his first race in the Briar Cliff road meeting in an Allan-Kingston car. He drove four of the eight laps when his desire to clip time caused his machine to turn over and he went out.

He was the victim of one of the greatest disappointments that have ever been written in the history of auto racing when, at Indianapolis, he led the field in the 1912 grind of 500 miles, and with only one lap to go he broke down.

At Elgin that year he finally copped the first place and followed it up by winning the Vanderbilt cup at Milwaukee a month later. In 1914 he repeated both of these performances and was awarded the American road race championship in 1912 and 1914. Last year he won the 1915 Indianapolis race and threw off the jinx there that had followed him all his career on that track.

He was not able to get his car tuned up for the Chicago Speedway race last year, much to the disappointment of those who wanted to see De Palma and Resta fight it out again. Resta having pushed him strong at Indianapolis.

This year's race at Chicago will be the first time that the two have met since last year at Indianapolis. De Palma's post entry being turned down this year after Barney Oldfield refused to sign a post entry waiver.

Hinkel to Be Third In Ring

Following closely upon the heels of notice to the effect that Mat Hinkel had been appointed by Fred Wenck, chairman of the New York state boxing commission, as one of the licensed referees in New York, comes information to the effect that Mat is being boomed as referee for the now much discussed Jack Dillon-Frank Moran battle in New York, June 29.

The matter already has been broached to the interested parties, like Dorgan, Moran's manager, gave his consent to the arrangement several days ago while Sam Marburger, Dillon's manager, is still to be heard from on the subject.

Barney Oldfield to Appear in Last Races at Chicago

Barney Oldfield is going to quit the speed game, but he is not likely to go back to peddling his papers. For Barney, in spite of all the money he has burned up in cigars, still has a little put away for the rainy days that may come. On June 10 at the Chicago Speedway, this veteran of the motor racing game will appear in his last big automobile speed event. He will go after the Second International Auto Derby with a vow to take home the scalp of Ralph De Palma and Dario Resta before he sings his swan song a few weeks later, when he will try to break the world's speedway lap record, and by doing better than two miles a minute capture the extra prize that has been put up by David F. Reid, president of the Chicago Speedway, for the driver who will set that mark.

JACK LACAIN.

One of the drivers of promise in the International Auto Derby, to be run at Chicago Speedway on June 10, the week of the National Republican convention, is Jack Lacain, who will drive one of the Delage cars entered by Harry Harkness of New York. Lacain is a chap who has worked his way to near the top in the racing game after years of experience as a mechanic for the older drivers. The Derby is expected to draw the largest crowd that ever watched a sporting event and the convention will be adjourned at noon in order to allow the delegates to see the great battle against time and space.

Stars in American Association. In looking over the pitchers of the American association we find such stars and ex-big leaguers as Falkenberg, Regan, Humphries, Douglas, James, Bedient, Fardus, Aitchison and Yingling.

FINDLAY—The usual inconvenience of registering and locating places where entertainment is to be afforded will be done away with at this year's state Sunday school convention, those in charge of the gathering have announced. A complete registration of delegates' names, their residences, time of arrival, length of stay and other information will be compiled by state officers in co-operation with county superintendents. This will entirely obviate the usual delay and bother incident to getting located in a convention city.

SPEED KING QUILTS TRENCHES TO DRIVE AT CHICAGO SPEEDWAY

With the war in Europe demanding the services of every able-bodied man, it is not to be wondered at that only one foreign driver of a high-powered racing automobile has appeared on this side of the Atlantic. Josef Christensen, the Frenchman by birth and Belgian by adoption, who is to drive in the great International Auto Derby at Chicago on June 10, is the lone European pilot who has succeeded in getting his release from the trenches long enough to campaign and manage the English Sunbeams. His appearance in America is the first since 1911, when he drove an Excelsior into sixth place. He is considered one of the greatest drivers that ever copped the big prizes in Europe, and with the space-eating Sunbeam he is considered a favorite, even with such men as Ralph De Palma, Dario Resta, winner of the last year's derby, Barney Oldfield, Ed-o'Donnell, Ira Vail, Tom Alley and Aldo Franchi among his competitors. The greatest crowd that ever watched a sporting event is expected to witness the speed kings of the world in the fight for the elimination of time and space. The National Republican Convention will adjourn at noon the day of the race in order to allow the delegates to watch the greatest race of all time. He is shown here at the wheel and in his make-up getting ready for the big show.

Indianapolis at Louisville. Minneapolis at Kansas City. St. Paul at Milwaukee.

ELYRIA—Alexander Monroe, a local baker, placed $100 in his bakery safe and went to his home to get supper, intending to place the money in the bank that evening. On his way to his home his automobile was struck by a street car and demolished and Monroe was landed in a hospital. After several days in the hospital, Alex returned to his bakery to discover that his head baker had departed suddenly during his absence and that there were no goods in the store. And the $100 was gone.

WALL ST. ERRATIC;

NEW YORK, June 8.—A broad demand for rails, particularly coals, featured today's early dealings. Reading opened with a block of 6,500 shares at 106 1/4 to 106, soon advancing to 106 1/2, an extreme overnight gain of 1 3/4. Chesapeake and Ohio was taken in thousand shares up to 66 1/4, an advance of 1 5/8, and Lehigh Valley changed hands in round amounts at fractional gains. Shipping shares were next in favor, United Fruit advancing 3 1/4 to the new record of 168. New York Central, Northern Pacific, St. Paul and United States Steel were added to the list of strong issues. Specialties were relatively backward.

The erratic trend manifested before the end of the first hour was attributed by observers to the complex political conditions. Leading stocks receded 1 to almost 2 points and other issues suggested profit-taking. Bonds were firm.

LIMA HIGH SCHOOL HAS MAY DAY REVEL

Commencement Week Festivities Open With Review.

The opening event of the festivities of commencement week was held last evening when a Shakespearean review was held at Memorial hall. Practically every seat in the big hall was filled with friends and relatives of the graduates and school patrons. The review was a brilliant dramatic spectacle, presenting the various Shakespearean periods and gorgeous costumes of the same. The audience was most generous with applause.

The scene was laid in Mermald Inn, where Shakespeare announces to his friends he is to present a May day program for Queen Elizabeth. Hamlet's mad scene, sketches from Julius Caesar, Macbeth's prophecy and the dance of witches, scenes from Twelfth Night, in Writer's tale and from the Tempest were given in the review.

There was shepherds and shepherdesses, nymms and reapers and dancers, all perfectly costumed, 128 graduates being included in the pageant.

Miss Foster and Miss Kahle, high school teachers, were in charge and deserved much credit for the success of the review, which provided an entertaining evening. Miss Anna Campbell was pianist, Ray Richmond electrician, and Prof. J. T. Cotner was general manager. The music was furnished by the high school orchestra. Prof. Mark Evans was director of all music.

Officers sent to the north yards of the C. H. & D. railroad this morning to investigate the report that a man was locked in a box car which had been shunted on siding of the road, near Murphy street. A thorough investigation of the cars in this vicinity failed to reveal anyone in such a predicament.
